

In Memory DAN GUNN, JR.

February 29, 1916 - February 27, 1984
Could Have Been 96th Birthday
This 28th Anniversary of his Tragic Death

He could have been 96 years old, it has been 28 years since his tragic slaying. He is still missed by his friends and grieved by his son who will never forget. Cruelly an unrepentant and unpunished thief-in-the-night robbed our world of a hardworking, well respected agri-businessman and Peach Farmer in the dark of night, February 27, 1984. He was interred at historic Riverside Cemetery on his leap-year birthday among his equally successful forebears, who are rooted in mid-state history since the Revolutionary War. Coming of age and going to work during the Great Depression to save the family farm he worked, along with millions of Americans, exhaustively long hours through WWII contributing taxes and commodities through the successful Cold War, but sadly failing to witness his beloved Pres. Reagan exhort Soviet Leader Gorbachev to "tear down this wall!". He was well thought of throughout Middle Ga., renowned by his contemporaries as thoroughly hands-on and for being "the hardest working farmer in the area!"

Hard work, innovation, advancement in our nation are the things that interested him and he placed value on. In addition to his son, daughter, grandchild, great-grandchildren and "loving companion" whom along with her four children - remember

"Mr. Dan" as he was called by

Dan Gunn Jr.

most, as "a kind genuine wonderful man" whom they "truly miss" - are younger midstate citizens who are denied the pleasure of ever experiencing this eccentric hard working, exceedingly productive and fascinating man. Another great American gone too soon. Due to longevity in his family he could very well be celebrating his 96th birthday with his children, grandchild and great grandchildren. He was slain in the autumn of his life before he could relax and enjoy the fruits of his dedication.

Lest he be forgotten...

to learn more go to:

www.gunncoldcase.com